BRIGHT CANCER CARE
Brighter futures for liver, pancreatic, bowel and gastrointestinal cancer patients

www.brightcancercare.org.uk

BRIGHT is a registered Charity established in 1997 based at St Luke's Cancer Centre, Royal Surrey Hospital, Guildford. BRIGHT aims to improve the lives of those affected by cancers, that are gastrointestinal (GI) – bowel, stomach, colon and rectum – and/or hepato-pancreato-biliary (HPB) – liver, gallbladder and pancreas.

Why we need your funding

BRIGHT fundraising aims to support ground-breaking research to improve treatment options and outcomes for all GI and HPB cancer patients. With over 25 years of support from the Charity, many innovative treatments have evolved – and it is vital that we continue this work with help from our supporters, for a Brighter future.

Funds raised provide St Luke's Cancer Centre with vital equipment used in treatments including surgery, chemotherapy, immunotherapy and radiotherapy. To date funds raised have enabled the purchase of valuable machinery such as the Papillon radiotherapy machine, Nanoknife and liver surgical equipment.

Research is essential for the future

The BRIGHT Charity enables medical personnel and consultants to gather and publish data and evidence, influencing change in future practices and pave the way to a wider choice of treatments and improved outcomes.

BRIGHT relies solely on the generosity and support of individuals like you to carry out our vital work.

We need to raise over £100,000 a year to continue this work for the health of our future generations.

Why we need your funds

£1,300 each — Six computers for data input.

£7,000 each — Comfortable reclining chairs for cancer patients attending St Luke's cancer centre for treatment.

£25,000 and then £11,000 for 3 years — Nanoknife data collector to collect and analyse data on the use of our new Nanoknife machine, in order to perform quicker procedures, with less pain than other methods.

£35,000 per year — Research training for a cancer surgeon to work on developing new blood tests to improve diagnosis and treatments.

£38,000 — Research technician needed to maintain the Vectra Polaris machine, used to identify and visualise the response of the immune system against cancer.

£38,000 — Research nurse to co-ordinate with RSCH to recruit patients into the CITRUS study trial, for diagnosing and treating Pancreatic Cancer.

£44,000 — Computer scientist for the CITRUS trial (colorectal cancer radiotherapy trial) to assess patient outcomes.

£40,000 — Co-ordinator for the CITRUS trial.

£120,000 — Autostainer machine for preparing tumour tissue slides in the lab to allow detailed molecular imaging to discover mechanisms that cause cancer. This will help the lab to process more patients samples faster, and improve the impact of research.
